

Global Trade Disputes: a zero-sum game for all — is there a way out?

E. Demircan
Director Advocacy and Public Policy
SEMI, Bruxelles, Belgium

Biography

Emir Demircan, Director of Advocacy and Public Policy, SEMI Europe. He is a professional in public policy and government affairs in engineering technologies. At SEMI, he is responsible for leading pan-European advocacy actions on technology, talent, regulatory and government incentives. He previously worked in the 3D printing, chemical and digital sectors. He studied international political economy at King's College London.